Project Management

PM: Activities Screen

Activities are the end points of the branches of the log frame. Note that depending on your nomenclature and the number of levels you use in your log frame, your display will differ from the examples in this article. In any case, the system will handle log frame branch end points as activities.

Each activity in the list displays at-a-glance information: code, activity name, unit of measure, targets and actuals, percent activity performance, and budget, costs, and percent financial performance. All activities appear, regardless of whether they have been configured or contain any data.

From the Project Management Module Activity Plan & Budget screen, click on any activity to open it.
